What is an Access code?

Access codes allows teachers to share academic progress with parents and students. Access codes are specific to teacher accounts and classrooms, so all student data remains confidential. With a safe and secure network, teachers can communicate with parents and students to make learning meaningful and collaborative.

Note: Teachers must provide access codes. If your child(ren)'s teacher is not on LearnBoost, spread the news and get them to join today!

Adding a classroom

Once you have an account, click the "Add Class" icon on your dashboard. This will present you with a pop-up where you can enter in the access code that your child's teacher has given you.

Note: Make sure to enter the code exactly as it's written, since codes are case sensitive and unique.

Navigating your account

LearnBoost is like an online progress report, where you can see exactly how your child is performing in class, and stay in the loop with upcoming assignments and events. Here's a look at what teachers can share with parents:

Grades - see scores on individual assignments as they're graded. Note: teachers will share final grades at their discretion.

Attendance - know when your child is absent or tardy as soon as the teacher takes attendance.

Comments - teachers may write and share comments with parents & students, so keep an eye on the "grades" section for notes!

Calendar - view class calendars and check out upcoming assignments.

Fun tip:

Any teachers can share grades, attendance reports, and assignment calendars with parents and students!

So, if you like what you see, please refer our product to other teachers from your dashboard. Look at the top right of your page for the "Refer" button and help them get free accounts today.
